

Conduct Last Rites For Charles P. Baumann, 94

Another link with pioneer times in Frankfort was broken last week (March 9) with the death of Charles P. Baumann, 94 years old. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Spindler-Koelling chapel at Matteson with the Rev. Erich Bizer, pastor of St. Peter's church, Frankfort, officiating. Burial was in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Baumann, pioneer residents of Green Garden, he was born in that township, Nov. 19, 1865. The War Between the States had ended that September.

Three years later, 1868, the father opened a tavern at Frankfort at Kansas and Ash Streets and the business remained in the family until two and a half years ago when Charles sold out and retired. He and a brother, the late August, had taken over the tavern after their father died in 1914. After Gus died about eight years ago Charles carried on with the business.

Altho he sold the business Charles Baumann continued to make his home in the living quarters there where he spent most of his life. There were a few years when he lived in Chicago, where he had a business, but he disposed of that and came back to Frankfort.

A staunch Republican he was a regular voter at all elections and two years ago when ill health prevented his leaving the house he cast an absentee ballot. Mr. Baumann kept abreast of the times thru newspapers, radio and TV.

He was a member of St. Peter's church and the Loyal Order of Moose.

Charles Baumann never married. He is survived by two brothers, Fred, of Evanston, and Arthur, of Frankfort; three sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Bobzin, of Oak Park; Mrs. Lulu Whitcomb, of Marion, Ind.; and Mrs. Edith Lambrecht, of Frankfort. There are four generations of nieces and nephews. Three brothers, John, August and Oscar, and two sisters, Miss Caroline and Mrs. Anna Kelliker, preceded him in death. Zechlin Funeral Service was in charge of arrangements.

New Strip Act-Wabash Takes Off Two Trains

The Wabash railroad, the only one serving Orland Park, had petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to discontinue two of its overnight trains plying between Chicago and St. Louis, No. 117 and No. 118.

The petition addressed to the Illinois Commission asks that the permission cover the two trains between Chicago and Granite City, which is on the Illinois line across the Mississippi from St. Louis inasmuch as the Illinois Commission's jurisdiction does not extend into Missouri.

Southbound train No. 117 does not stop at Orland Park but the north bound No. 118 stops there on signal to discharge revenue passengers from St. Louis or pick up same for Chicago.

Ask Reduced Speed On West Ave. In Orland Park

Residents along West avenue in Orland Park have launched a fight to get the speed limit set for that thoroughfare reduced from the present 40 m.p.h. to 25 or 30 miles an hour.

In this they are supported by the village board which has been endeavoring to get the speed figure changed since it was set more than a year ago.

The state highway department sets speed limits on all state or state aid streets and roads, it was explained. In the case of West avenue the 40-mile limit was recommended by the Cook county highway department because this is a county maintained thoroughfare.

Robert Novak, who appeared at the Monday night meeting of the Orland Park village board as a spokesman for his neighbors, reported that the Cook county highway department has agreed to review the situation and to that end will make a school survey to determine if the 40-mile limit is detrimental to the safety of the youngsters.

This survey is scheduled to be made this week. From it will be ascertained how many youngsters walk along West avenue (which is without sidewalks) to and from school; how many of them ride bikes; how many, if any, ride school buses; how many go home for lunch and how many cars use the street and at what periods.

Parents contend that it is dangerous for children to walk the street with cars speeding in both directions. They also point out that the street is hilly so at intervals drivers and pedestrians are out of sight of each other. Mr. Novak pointed out that since the speed limit is 40 some drivers travel at a much faster pace, among them being drivers of heavy trucks. He said the residents of West avenue would like to have enforcement of the speed law as well as a lower speed assigned as a maximum for West ave.

According to information obtained by Novak from highway officials, he said, speeds are really set by the motorists. Checks are made and the average speed driven on a street becomes the limit.

Roads and streets are divided into two classes, he was told, urban and non-urban. The speed limit is higher on non-urban thoroughfares. West avenue, which is a part of the residential area of Orland Park, is classified as non-urban.

Mayor W. R. Schussler assigned Trustee Lloyd Cowan to work with the residents and the survey group in an endeavor to get the speed limit on West avenue reduced. West avenue dead-ends at 143rd st., in front of the Orland Park grade school.

Orland Man Faces Reckless Homicide Charge After Crash

An Orland Park man, Ronald G. Kosary, 30, of 15200 S. 108th ave., is reported in serious condition in St. Francis hospital, Blue Island in addition to facing a reckless homicide charge as a result of a head-on crash involving two cars Sunday that claimed one life and injured another person besides Kosary.

The collision occurred on Illinois Rt. 7 near 108th ave. State Police Sgt. Phil Colella said Kosary told him he was traveling west and that an eastbound car crashed into him head-on. Sgt. Colella said that an inspection of the scene indicated Kosary was passing another car on a hill and was in the east bound lane.

Driver of the east bound car was Robert McCaffrey, 35, of Maywood, a chiropractor. A passenger in McCaffrey's car, Mrs. Leonta Catherine Newton, 44, also of Maywood, was killed.

McCaffrey was reported critically injured but appeared to be improving. Kosary's condition also was reported improved.

State police in District 5 also were busy Sunday. Shortly before noon a St. Anne school bus carrying 46 children to a basketball game at Joliet was struck by a car at the junction of U.S. 45 and the Peotone-Wilmington road.

The impact threw the bus against a utility pole and the vehicle overturned. Most of the children were shaken and bruised but none was reported seriously injured. The bus driver, Maynard Beautre, 37, of St. Anne, escaped injury. The driver of the car that hit the bus, John W. Herbert, 21, of 631 Union, Chicago Heights, was treated for injuries at St. Mary's hospital, Kankakee. The children also were taken to this hospital for a check up and first aid. Hebert was given an arrest ticket by State Trooper Stewart Tribe for failure to yield right-of-way. Hebert was driving east, the bus north. Hebert told police he thought the intersection a 4-way stop and after halting for U.S. 45 proceeded and was hit by the bus. His car was shoved into the path of a car driven by William Luthin, 63, of Hinsdale. Luthin and Hebert were both injured and taken to St. Mary's.

At 8:30 Sunday night two persons were fatally injured in a two-car collision at the same intersection. Mary Ann Gill, 18, of Batavia, and Donald J. Smith, 18, of Evansville, Ind., but formerly of Aurora, were traveling north on U.S. 45 when their car was struck by one driven by Arthur A. Wickert, 65, of Peoria, who was traveling west on the Peotone-Wilmington road. Wickert and two young people were taken to St. Mary's hospital, at Kankakee. Miss Gill died a short time after arrival. Her companion died early Monday morning. Wickert escaped serious injuries.

He is alleged to have run the stop sign and State Trooper Gary Curtis had him locked up in the Kankakee county jail after release from the hospital pending further investigation of the crash.

A Kankakee man was killed outright in a collision at this same intersection on March 7 and Sunday his companion died at St. Mary's hospital.

Woman Pays $75 In Fines After Crash

Mrs. Eleanor G. Herold, of 111 Wisconsin st., New Lenox, has been fined a total of $75 by Justice of the Peace Robert Konopack of that village following a collision March 1, on U.S. 30 at an entrance to the Lincoln-Way shopping center.

William V. Hathaway, 245 Prairie st., Manhattan, charged that he was traveling west on U.S. 30 at 6:10 a.m. March 1 and was starting to turn left into the shopping center when the front of his car was struck by the automobile driven by Mrs. Herold, also west bound. Hathaway said he signalled for the turn.

The other car kept on going, he told New Lenox police. On March 3 he saw the car again at the same place and same time and so reported. On March 4 a New Lenox squad platted at the place and when Mrs. Herold came along started in pursuit. Police claim they had the siren and flasher light turned on but the defendant would not halt. Police gave up the chase at Gougar road, they said, but in the meantime had obtained the license number and traced it to Mrs. Herold.

She was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and refusing to comply with police orders and after a plea of guilty at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Konopack March 7 was fined a total of $75.

Hathaway claims the damage to his car amounted to $116, according to the police report.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Boy Scout troop #251 will conduct another paper drive, Saturday morning, March 19. Joseph Bartell, chairman of the drive, asks the people to please have their papers tied in small bundles so that the boys can handle them; place at the curb or bring to the truck which will be stationed at the grade school on 143rd street.

Boy Scouts, Dave Johnson, Ross Smith, Tim Sedgewick and Joe Bartell served as color guards at the recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dallas McGhee, Scoutmaster, John Herron and Robert Kuykendall, assistant scoutmasters and twenty scouts had a "camp out" at Camp Roe near Chicago Heights recently.

The Orland fire department in-halator squad answered a call Sunday evening to the home of Henry Klotz who suffered an apparent heart attack and was later removed to Little Company of Mary hospital. Mr. Klotz operates the Nite-O-Rest Motel and restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosario Cosentino returned from a trip to Ft. Lauderdale and Miami Beach where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fleming, former residents of Orland Park. The Flemings operate their own Drive-In in Miami Beach, Fla.

The time and dates of the Lenton Fellowship study of the Gospel of Luke which Mrs. Robert Plastow teaches has been changed to Monday evenings at 8:15 p.m. and will be held in the Methodist church parsonage.

And the suit says both Chicago and Evergreen Park maintained the street.

"The defendants, or one of them, not regarding its duty" negligently permitted Central Park to "remain out of repair, defective, obstructed, dangerous and unsafe for traffic" at or near the 103rd street intersection, the suit charges.

The plaintiff was driving northbound on Central Park, the suit relates, when her car "did collide with great force and violence into or against the obstructed, defective, dangerous and unsafe part" of the public way, injuring her in the head, body and limbs and damaging the car.

It asks an award of $25,000 on her behalf.

Urges Leptospirosis Test For Swine, Cattle Herds

A University of Illinois veterinarian advises swine and cattle farmers to have their herds and herd additions tested for leptospirosis.

This disease reduces weight gains and causes abortions and sometimes death in cows and sows. Infected carrier animals that appear healthy can introduce it into herds, says Dr. L. E. Hanson, college of veterinary medicine. It also attacks man and can be fatal, experts say.

Farmers have been giving increased attention to the leptospirosis threat to herd health. They realize that this disease may cause some of the "unexplained" animal health and breeding problems.

But farmers can seldom determine just by observation whether an animal is infected, says Dr. Hanson. Animals with a mild form of the disease may show no symptoms. In severe cases there may be jaundice of the eye and mouth membranes, loss of appetite and bloody urine. However, even these signs of acute infection are similar to the signs produced by other diseases.

Dr. Hanson emphasizes the need for farmers to be alert in detecting leptospirosis. Because sometimes there are no signs and infected animals may be carriers for many months, he recommends regular inspection of the herd as well as herd additions. During these inspections the veterinarian may take samples and isolate suspected animals.

There are several ways to handle a leptospirosis outbreak. Dr. Hanson adds. The veterinarian will fit his recommendations to the individual farmer's needs.

Scan Clothes Closets Now

URBANA-- Smart home managers are businesslike. They take an inventory of each clothes closet as they clean and plan for spring and summer.

According to Mrs. Lorraine Trebilcock, University of Illinois home economist, on a helpful method is to list each garment under a keep-as-is, remodel or discard column.

To determine how to list, she suggests that you stand back from each garment and look at it as your friends would look at it. This is no time for sentiment. Be objective.

If you can't wear-as-is, then decide whether it's worth remodeling. First, check the fabric for color changes due to fading, worn-in areas and worn-off nap. Now decide whether there is enough good material to cut another garment. It's possible to make a size 12 sheath skirt and weskit from a size 40 man's suit, a girl's cardigan from big brother's outdated V-neck sweater and a little girl's skirt from the skirt of mother's dress.

If sack and chemise dresses have large hems to give additional skirt length, they can be cut and fitted at the normal waistline.

Consider making accessories before discarding good material. Bright wool jersey or plaids make smart hats, gloves, scarves, and bags.

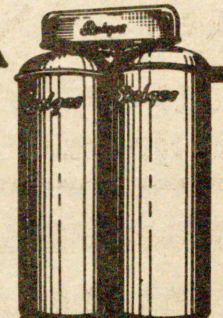

Occasionally faded flora designs can be salvaged by touching them up with textile paints.

If a garment can't be worn as is and isn't worth remodeling, then there's one column left on the inventory sheet--discard. And that doesn't mean hanging the garment in the storage closet.

IAA Seek Office Help At Bloomington

High school and college graduates are agog with the final whirl of school days - but they're also doing some serious thinking about getting a job. The Illinois Agricultural Association can put nearly 300 of them to work this year!

By June 1, the IAA and its affiliated companies will open their first Bloomington office - a "beachhead" operation to serve as the forerunner for relocation of the entire organization from Chicago to Bloomington. Country Life Insurance, Country Mutual Insurance, and Illinois Farm Supply companies will need 100 permanent employees by June, according to Philo J. Larrabee, IAA personnel director. They will man the temporary headquarters being opened this spring on the Illinois

Wesleyan University campus, and the working force will be built up gradually from that initial nucleus.

By Nov. 1, when two new buildings on the Wesleyan campus are ready for IAA's temporary occupancy, nearly 200 more men and women must be employed.

Next year the state Farm Bureau will need another 500 to 600 people, approximately 450 of them women. This will bring the total complement by the end of 1961, when IAA's new home office building is scheduled to open, to nearly 900 full-time employees to be trained and to work in Bloomington.

The help of county secretaries of organization has been enlisted to screen job applicants at the county level and to refer qualified prospects to the centralized IAA personnel department.

Most employees must be trained in office skills, either by schooling or work experience. Larrabee stated. He considers typing the greatest office asset to the women.

"A high school education is the minimum over-all requirement we're looking for," said Larrabee. He lists courses or experience in shorthand, bookkeeping, office practice, commercial arithmetic, filing, and office machines as helpful.

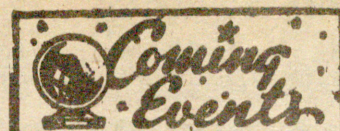

The Association expects few openings in administrative positions, as the majority of staff and management-level personnel plan to move to Bloomington with the companies. The few positions that do develop will be filled by promotion from within the organization.

IAA and affiliates offer salaries that compare favorably with those paid for similar work in other Bloomington offices. The excellent employee benefit program includes Blue Cross hospitalization and group medical and life insurance, paid vacations and paid holidays, income retirement plan, a credit union, and an employee cafeteria in the new home office.

Young people moving to the Bloomington area will be assisted in finding suitable living quarters. The twin cities of Bloomington and Normal offer many attractions in addition to a good job with the state Farm Bureau.

Applicants for IAA employment in Bloomington should call, write or see their county secretary of organization.

ASC Reminds Farmers They Can Still Apply for Aid

Cook county farmers can still apply for assistance under the agricultural conservation program for establishing acreages in long term grasses and legumes. This should be particularly attractive to livestock and dairy producers, said Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the local ASC office.

Some of our 1960 program funds have been set aside for a few preferred practices, and we would like to use this money in sharing the costs with farmers in establishing good alfalfa, brome, etc. The long term production of this crop is considered to be sound conservation so the Government thru the AS Program will share about 50 percent of the establishment cost with the farmer.

In return for this assistance the farmer must keep the pasture or meadow crop on the land for at least four years following the year in which the seeding is accomplished. This is less time than previously required and might now better fit the needs and plans of more farmers.

Too many of us too often overlook the value of producing good forage crops. Once an acreage is established in good grasses and legumes it will generally continue to produce many pounds of milk or meat without much additional cost. It's a comparatively sure crop that will provide surprising returns. At the same time the land is protected from erosion. This is in considerable contrast to the risks and costs involved in a heavy cropping operation.

All farmers should feel free to call at our office at 9628 W. 143rd st., Orland Park, to discuss this matter. This is especially true of those who have areas on their farms that should best be in pasture or meadow crops. Remember, an official request must be placed on file before a practice is started.

When you are cold...real cold! When the opposition is hot...and then smoother!

In basketball... this syllogism means defeats for the cold team. Carl Sandburg was that cold team against the Kankakee Kays last Friday evening in the finale of the Kankakee Sectional tourney. The Kays were never greater in defeating the Eagles.

Sandburg had advanced to the finals of the sectional with a first round win over Braidwood, 53-40.

Kankakee opened the game with a full court press against Sandburg. This seemed to bother the Eagles. Don Arnold committed a couple of personal fouls that led to his ejection from the game in the early moments of the third quarter. This hurt Sandburg.

Bill Peterson, 5'11" guard, played the kind of game that you need from someone in tourney play. Peterson blitzed the Eagles with 21 points in the first half. This was by far the greatest scoring that Peterson has turned in at Kankakee during his basketball effort in four years. There was not a better time than this.

The diminutive guard continued with uncanny accuracy topofrom out at the top of the foul circle. The Sandburg zone was not able to do much about it in the first half of the game.

Peterson's shooting kept the Kays in front of Sandburg in the first half of the game.

At the same time Carl Sandburg was having difficulty hitting from the field. The team was getting shots, but they were not dropping in with the normal Carl Sandburg accuracy. They were cold and never reached that hot peak that they showed in previous games.

In the first quarter the Kays took over a 20-12 lead. Bill Peterson hit 6 long jump shots without one single miss. Arnold had collected three personal fouls by the end of the first quarter.

Midway in the second quarter Arnold was taken out, saddled with four personal fouls. He had scored just 5 points that time. All of these came at the free throw lane.

The second quarter was a bit more even. Kankakee increased its lead by two points to a 39-29 figure.

Sandburg had beaten Thornton, having been down by at least 15 points, but they didn't do it without the help of Don Arnold.

Rich Donley, great Kankakee guard, began hitting from the outside in the second half. Up to this time Donley had not scored very much. Peterson, early hero, went as cold as the Eagles. Donley took up the slack and proved the right to his title as the best ball player in the SS Conference.

Rich scored 8 of the 11 points that Kankakee score in the third quarter, but then the score was only 50-37. There was still hope.

The final quarter was disastrous for the Eagles. They tried to press, but John Baron of Kankakee seemed to solve the press and set up many easy baskets for the Kays.

Donley never cooled off once he started. He hit consistently throughout the fourth quarter and ruined the Eagles defense with deft ball handling, some of the best that Sandburg would ever have seen in Illinois high school basketball.

When Kankakee managed to get Sandburg on the run, they never let up. When the action was blown to a halt the Kankakee team rolled on to a smashing finale of 26-13. This doubled the margin of advantage that they had built up over three periods of play.

Carl Sandburg won the second place trophy for the Sectional. It is still the great triumph for the teams in our area of the SWS Conference.

BILL GORNEY, 53, reserve for Carl Sandburg, gets his only basket in tourney play. Ron Lindgren, (23) great Sandburg rebounder, is in position to receive the rebound on his side of the basket. This is the biggest reason for Lindgren's value to the Eagles team. (Marvin Smith photo)

Cold Stove League

BY DEAN DALLAS

SEMMLER PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Kankakee's Kays will find the supreme test this week. If they can take Proviso East, rated number 4 in the state, the Kays could be a rather good prospect to meet someone in the final segment of the state tournament.

The Kays have experience and enough depth to stand up in tourney play. Don't be surprised if they take the Pirates.

When Kankakee plays its own game it is beautiful to watch. Shortly you get the sinking feeling that a basket is coming and your favorites can not do to much to stop it. Swish and it is in!

Carl Sandburg met the Kays when they were at the peak for this basketball season. Many felt that Kankakee has not looked better at any time. In fact, some local observers felt it was the greatest game for Donley and company.

The Eagles met a great foe on its off night. Sandburg's players, the ones had carried them to the finals of the Kankakee sectional, failed to click on the easy shots. At one stretch of basket famine, Don Arnold and Ron Lindgren had not been hitting on easy close up shots. These lads are human. It takes only the one off night to beat you at this level of play.

Too bad.. that Sandburg wasn't hot on this given night. It would have been interesting to note the outcome. Even with out the aid of very many field goals the Eagles stayed within striking distance over the first half.

Certainly, this was one of the better Sandburg teams.

One blond crew-headed boy has made the difference for that aggregate from Orland Park, Ron Lindgren, over this past season. Yes, Arnold and Gerry McBride were fine ball players and so were a few others, but it was Ron Lindgren who made the difference. The Eagles were a good team, but I don't think quite good enough to win even the Conference title, without Lindgren.

They opened the season using Ron as a reserve, but once they noted the potential he was inserted in the lineup. In spite of the fact that he was a reserve, early in the year, he led the Carl Sandburg team in scoring in Conference action with 207 points and a near 15 points per game average.

Many of these points were scored on rebound tip in. He was extremely valuable on the rebounding. Ron was almost uncanny in getting the position. With his 6'3" and position on the rebound it was difficult for anyone to take the ball away from him.

Lindgren is not the flashy type of player that one sees in Arnold. He is more steady and constant type who finished the season ahead of the rest in scoring and must be listed as a very valuable cog in the wheel that spun the Eagles the farthest they have ever gone on the "glory trail" of Illinois State Basketball. Ron scored 16 against Kankakee.

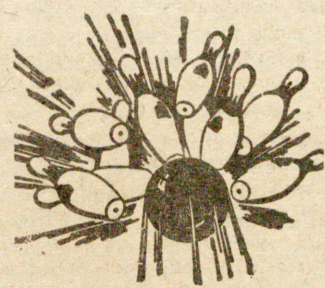

The most heartening things to coach Bill Adams at this time is the return of Ron Lindgren next season to the Sandburg fold.

The loss of Arnold and McBride will be felt in the Eagles nest, next year. Many feel, that without them the Sandburg lads will not repeat in the same fashion that they did.

But don't count the returning kids out of anything.

WATCH YOUR SEMMLER PRESS for the spring preview on baseball and track that soon will appear in the sports section. The first in the series will begin next week.
